Marksmanship Classes for County Planned

Defense Council Announces Course of Instruction in Firearms

Facilities of rifle clubs in Lake county and the services of expert marksmen as lecturers and instructors are being called into use by the Lake County Defense council's department of marksmanship.

The department of marksmanship is planning to set up classes to teach civilians the use of rifle or pistol. The course will include instruction in safety rules for firearms, nomenclature and elementary rules.

For instruction purposes, the county is being divided into four districts, according to information received this week by Roman B. Vos, commander of the Antioch Legion post and senior air warden for this district.

There are a number of shooting clubs and sportsmen's groups in this region that will probably co-operate. These include the Antioch Rod and Gun club, W. S. Brooks, president, and clubs and groups meeting at the various resorts.

The information received by Vos is to the following effect:

Lake County Council of Defense Department of Marksmanship

PURPOSE: It is the purpose of the Department of Marksmanship to provide as adequately as possible Schools with competent instructors, to teach civilians in the use of rifle or pistol; that such school shall include in the Course of Marksmanship:

1. Safety
2. Nomenclature
3. Elementary Rules.

ORGANIZATION:

The department is in charge of the chairman. The county shall be divided into four districts. Each district shall be governed by an executive officer appointed by the department chairman. The district executive officer shall be responsible for the activities in his district. He shall take steps to secure facilities necessary to the physical operation of a school in his district.

The personnel of each school shall include a lecturer and as many instructors as the number in the class warrants.

Lecturers and instructors will be appointed by the chairman upon recommendation.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION:

The course of instruction shall be three hours, one night a week for a period of six weeks. (This shall be in effect during the winter months only.) The six weeks shall be consecutive.

PRESENT INSTRUCTIONS:

Until the foregoing is set up, it is planned to use the facilities of the Rifle clubs in Lake county for the first classes of instruction. Classes are to start approximately March 15. It is therefore suggested that you line up the men and women in your community who are interested and who you think will make competent instructors. They will be expected to attend the first classes of instruction in order that they may be ready to serve as instructors in their communities.

You will receive applications to be filled out by those in your community who are interested. Applications are to be sent to the Lake County Council of Defense office at Waukegan; you will receive them at a later date.

COST: There will be no charge made to those attending the classes of instruction. They will be expected to buy such ammunition as necessary to complete the course. This will run in the neighborhood of $1.00 depending upon the practicing done by the student. The ammunition will be available at the school.

All instruction will be with .22 caliber guns.

Fire Keeps Him Away From Fire Extinguisher; So He Calls Fire Dept.

Damage to the extent of about $50 resulted from a fire in the basement of the old Andrew Lynch home on Depot street Tuesday afternoon around 4 o'clock.

B. C. Thompson, tenant, had fixed the furnace fire preparatory to going away, but noticed smoke coming up from the basement before he left, and put in a call for the Antioch fire department.

A fire extinguisher which Thompson had hanging in the basement near the furnace, proved of no avail in this emergency, for he was unable to reach it because of the smoke.

A coal, a spark of hot poker coming in contact with some rubbish was believed to have caused the fire.

ANTIOCH WILL LAUNCH WAR GARDEN MOVEMENT

Citizens Will Meet to Organize March 19 at the High School

Every garden will be a war garden this year, but in order that each gardener will do his best, he should enroll in the War Gardens Movement and receive all the help available through the proper authorities.

C. L. Kuhl, Vocational Agriculture instructor of the Antioch High School, was recently appointed as a member of the Lake County War Gardens committee and will take charge of organization and promotional work here at Antioch.

All farm and city families interested in gardening are requested to meet Thursday evening, March 19th, at 8 o'clock at the Antioch High school and learn all the facts, and enroll for the work.

The work will be in conjunction with the State and National organizations and much help will be available to the members.

Soil testing, free advice concerning varieties, insects, canning demonstrations, garden tours are being planned. Every gardener in Antioch township should make every effort to enroll in this important movement.

Canning factories will give priority to government orders. If the normal trade gets any canned goods it will perhaps not be as much as we will need. Transportation facilities should not be asked to transport your food when they are needed for hauling other materials.

Grow your own vegetables and help to win the war.

Committeemen for Local Precincts File Petitions

Filing of Lake county precinct committeemen candidates' nominating petitions at the county clerk's office in Waukegan closed Thursday afternoon with both William M. Antioch 2—Republican, James Stearns; Democratic, Charles J. Cerniak, Jr.

Antioch 3—Republican, Arthur Gardiner and Albert Friedle; Democratic, Thomas P. Mulligan.

Basketball Team Places Fourth in County Tournament

The Antioch town basketball team wound up its season Sunday with a thrilling win from Highland Park to clinch the fourth place trophy in the Lake County league sponsored by the Lake Villa Athletic club.

In the Antioch line-up were Osmond, forward; Wolfmberger, forward; Murphy, center; Crandall, Koppen, Quadenfeld, McCord, Kennedy, Willard (Bill) Murphy is manager.

First place in the county league went to the Protop team of Waukegan, with Lake Villa second and Libertyville third. Other teams taking part in the series of ten games included those of Grayslake and Highland Park.

The trophy won by Antioch is on display in the window of the NEWS office.

Through the courtesy of the Antioch Lions club, the players were loaned suits purchased for the Lions club team.

McGaughey Clarifies Judges Retirement Law For Antioch News

Further light on the Illinois statute relating to the Judges Retirement System was given yesterday in a letter to the News from Attorney George S. McGaughey of Waukegan, who is village attorney for Antioch.

Referring to Chapter 37, Article 440 as quoted in the News of March 5, McGaughey writes in part: "The retirement system is now included in the same chapter Sections 441.1 to 441.9 inclusive. You will find under this Act that Judge Decker is also entitled to retirement and $3,000 a year, and I am wondering whether your position is going to be consistent."

These newer sections of the statute referred to by McGaughey provide that when a judge's service is terminated "regardless of cause" and provided he has reached the age of 60 years, and has 12 years of service credit, he is eligible for retirement and to receive the annual retirement annuity in the amount of 25 per cent of his salary plus twenty-five seventy-seconds of one per cent for each month of service in excess of 12 years, but in no case is the annuity to exceed 50 per cent of the salary he received for his final services.

Since Judge Persons, county judge, has served the 12 years required and at the close of his present term will have served for 240 additional months besides, a little calculation will disclose that he could qualify for much more than the $3,000 annual pension were it not for the 50 per cent limit set by law. He is eligible for the $3,000 annuity at any time he retires and applies for it, as was stated in the News last week.

Mrs. Lillian Rotnour of Elgin is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Felter and daughter, Joan.

Parade of Candidates

The Antioch News Reviews Qualifications of Those Who Seek Primary Nominations

A PUBLIC OFFICE IS A PUBLIC TRUST

(This is the third of a series of articles dealing with the qualifications and careers of those who will seek nominations in the primary elections on April 14, 1942.)

Duties of the PROBATE JUDGE

In counties having more than 85,000 inhabitants a probate judge and a probate clerk must be elected to attend to the probate business of the county. In such counties the county court has only law jurisdiction. The probate judge and probate clerk are elected at the same time as the county judge and county clerk and they serve for the same length of time.

Specifically the probate judge administers the estates of deceased and incompetent persons and of minor children, or the estates of persons who have been adjudged insane in the county court. The probate judge appoints administrators for intestate estates, guardians for minors, and conservators for incompetents; approves their bonds and hears and allows claims against such estates; supervises the reports of administrators, and if correct, approves them. He is charged with the duty of seeing that the funds of such estates are conserved, or invested only in accordance with the law. He has the power to punish by contempt proceedings and otherwise all persons who do not administer their trust as administrator, guardian or conservator, exactly in accordance with law.

Matters relating to apprentices are rarely heard in these modern days, but the jurisdiction still exists.

The probate judge and the county judge are permitted, by law, to hold court for each other and to perform each other's duties in their own, or any other county, when it is found necessary or convenient.

The salary of the probate judge is $6,000 a year.

Established in 1922

The probate court of Lake county was established in 1922, and Martin C. Decker was elected as judge, in which office he has served continuously. Judge Decker is a candidate for re-nomination and election.

Lions Club Seeks Opinions on Bus Commuter Service

Possibility that Greyhound Company Might Re-route Buses Discussed

A general poll of the opinions of commuters and possible commuters is being sought by the Antioch Lions club and Greyhound bus officials in connection with a conference to be held on the possibility of arranging bus transportation between Antioch and Chicago.

A report by Daniel S. Boyer, chairman of the Lions' club committee to investigate this possibility, was read by President Robert King at a meeting Monday evening in Dominie's State Line Inn, in the absence of Boyer, who is out of town.

Under the plan being considered some of the buses which now operate north and south through Madison, Janesville and Beloit in Wisconsin and Rockford in Illinois would be routed east to pass through Antioch and Lake Villa, especially during the morning and evening.

This would assure bus transportation to and from Chicago for many owners of summer cottages who would like to commute, but would prefer not to use their automobiles, and whose needs would not be filled by existing train service.

The committee working on Greyhound motor franchise asks that all residents who are commuters notify some Lions club member or Walter Darnaby, secretary, or Dan Boyer, chairman, so that the committee will have data to report on estimated patronage from this locality.

During the social part of the evening, the members enjoyed the picture "Let's Go Fishing Again," starring Tony Accetta, six times world champion bait caster, in an exhibition of fly-rod angling.

A roast beef dinner was enjoyed prior to the meeting.

Lewis J. Cannon, 73, Dead in California

Lewis John Cannon, former resident of Antioch community, died Feb. 25, in Newman, California, according to information received here this week. His demise occurred in the West Side hospital in Newman, at the age of 73.

He was born Nov. 20, 1868, near Waukegan, Ill., and afterward lived near Antioch until 1903, when he and his bride moved to Oklahoma. He had resided in California for 11 years.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Gladys Almeida, he is survived by two brothers, Willis of Birchwood, Wis., and Fred of Youngs, Calif. The latter was present at his brother's bedside. Two grandchildren, Dorothy and Richard Almeida, also survive.

Following the funeral services on Feb. 27, the remains were cremated and the ashes sent to Edmond, Okla., to be placed beside the remains of his wife, Lucy Sperry Cannon.

Synthetic Rubber

The effect of Axis victories in the Far East is the loss of our rubber supply. In 1940 this country imported 650,000 tons, and almost every pound of it came from countries now blocked off by the Japs. For 25 years chemists have been developing a rubber substitute. But production of the product was not pushed so long as there was an abundance of cheaper natural rubber. Now the cost question has gone out the window. The United States must have rubber to win the war. Hence the present pressure on industry to produce a substantial quantity of a rubber substitute. Prior to December 7 plans were under way for producing 10,000 tons per annum of a synthetic rubber out of petroleum. Subsequently the government raised its sights to 40,000 tons, a goal expected to be reached sometime in 1943. Now the program is being further enlarged to 400,000 tons.

It is said that it will take a year and a half to get plants erected and in full operation. In the meantime the government has enough reserve rubber stocks to cover war needs and a little more. Owners of automobiles must take unusual care to make their present supply of tires last to the ultimate mile.

Broken Promise

In spite of the promises made in December that strikes would be outlawed for the duration of the war, America's vitally needed war production is being hampered by walk outs. At a time when every hour of work counts more than it ever has before, men are dropping their tools and leaving their jobs. At a time when the fighting forces of freedom are making gallant stands in every part of the world, men here are giving up.

A recent survey revealed that there had been 76 strikes in war work plants during February—an increase of 77 per cent over January. These strikes involved 70,905 workers and caused a loss of 2,028,824 man-hours of labor in these plants alone. Production of such vital military stores as airplane parts, machine tools, anti-aircraft guns, ships and ship parts was held up. Other factories that depended on the struck plants were also affected and work was slowed down all along the line.

Today, when uninterrupted war production is the single hope of freedom, why must industrial disputes bring production to a standstill? Why can't the disputes be settled while the war work continues? Why are the promises that were made only a few months ago being broken now?

"Liquidating" the Middle Class

"If our system of free enterprise is to endure," observes the American Taxpayers Association, "our policy of taxation must be radically changed. Our tax laws must be simplified, and the unbearable complexities of the present laws with the huge cost of administration, determination and collection on the part of both the government and the taxpayer must be eliminated."

"Additional revenue should not be raised through increased income and excess profit taxes on the individuals and corporations constituting not over 10 per cent of the country's population that are bearing the great bulk of the tax load at the present. It is this middle class that has always constituted the backbone of the country. It cannot be 'liquidated' without the most devastating consequences to every element of the population. . . . The least harmful tax would probably be a general sales tax. In this connection, it should be observed that more than 74 per cent of the national income is received by labor."

Our present chaotic tax system is, in effect, consuming and exhausting the country's economic resources. It is slowly destroying the sources of employment and industrial expansion which we will so sorely need when the war is over. Its complete revision is a most pressing "national defense" necessity.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for March 15

THE MIGHTY WORKS OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 8:23-34.
GOLDEN TEXT—What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?—Matthew 8:27.

The mighty works of Jesus declared Him to be the Son of God—yes, very God Himself. Unbelieving men who would discredit the Word of God and deny the Godhood of the Son are at much labor and trouble to explain away the miracles, but without any success.

In our lesson for today we have Christ showing His divine power over the forces of nature, and over the demons of the evil spirit world. We find the disciples in the storm—

1. Fearful—but Not in Danger (vv. 23-27).

The Son of God—who had become Son of man—showed His true humanity by that weariness which made Him sleep through a tempestuous storm, such as often came upon Lake Galilee. "Like a general in time of war Jesus slept when He could."

As He calmly slept, fear of destruction laid its deadly grip upon the hearts of the disciples. For the moment they saw only the angry waves, the smallness of their craft, the hopelessness of their situation, apparently forgetting that with Christ in the boat they were in no danger, in spite of the fearfulness of their surroundings and circumstances.

Is this not clearly a lesson for us in this day so full of alarms and fears? If we think of circumstances and conditions round about us we shall be overcome with fear—and well we may, if we do not have Christ with us in the boat of life. But if He is there—if we are His in the kinship of regenerating grace—we are in no danger. Shall we not accept the tender rebuke, "Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith?" (v. 26).

The majestic scene of Christ stilling the tempest, reminds us: not only that He can control any force of nature, but also that there is no storm of heart or mind or life to which He cannot authoritatively say, "Peace, be still" (Mark 4:39). Will you trust Him with your problem?

On the other side of the lake Christ met another kind of need—and cared for it. He there delivered two men who were—

II. Demon-dominated, but Not Hopeless (vv. 28-34).

There is only one devil, but he has many demons who do his bidding. The evidence is clear that these demons were able to enter into the personality of a human being and take control of the life. This was not insanity or a sickness of the body, but devil domination.

These two men (Mark and Luke speak only of one—perhaps the more violent of the two) were so strong and wicked because of the demon in them, that their relatives and friends had given them up as hopeless and had sent them out to live in the wilderness.

How horrible is the power of the devil in the life of any man or woman. But let us never forget that while no man can control such a situation (Mark 5:4), God is able. "With God all things are possible" (Matt. 19:26). We have not done all we can for our devil dominated friends and relatives until we have brought them to Jesus.

Notice that the demons recognized Christ as the Son of God (v. 29). They knew that He had the power to control them and that the day was to come when He would judge them.

The men were completely cured (Mark 5:15) as the demons were permitted to enter the herd of swine. Those poor beasts, apparently not content to harbor the evil spirits, cast themselves into the sea.

When the people of the land heard what had taken place they asked Jesus to leave. They evidently weighed the relative value of two men in their right mind over against a herd of swine and decided that they could not afford to have men delivered from the devil at such expense.

Unfortunately the "descendants" of those people seem to be in some of our churches today. They can afford anything in the way of luxury for themselves, but they are sure it costs too much to keep the church open—or to provide a preacher—or suitable equipment for the Lord's work. How unspeakably sad!

Perseverance

Soldiers must break step in marching over a bridge, for the vibration caused by their marching in step would shake down the most solid structure. And so it is with the spiritual obstacle you may meet: steady tramping, the plodding doing of your duty day after day, will in time tumble it over. In any task to which God sets you perseverance is all the power you need.

BEAM OR NOTE

Jesus said: "Judge not that ye be not judged. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye; but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and behold, a beam is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye."

Clear intellectual and spiritual vision is essential to correct thinking. Correct thinking is necessary to proper attitudes and action. Proper attitudes and action determine our usefulness to both God and man. Most of us are afflicted with a more or less blurred intellectual and spiritual vision. It may be the result of a "beam" or "note," but in either case our usefulness is impaired. It is the desire of the Methodist Church of Antioch to be mutually helpful in whatever our common need may be. We solicit your cooperation, and invite you to share in our work and worship. Our church school meets on Sunday at 9:45 A. M. followed by public worship at 11:00 A. M. Invite your friends to be your guests at any or all of our services.

PRAYER AND THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Contributed by the Bahai Group
"Glory be to Thee, O God, for Thy manifestation of love to mankind!"
O Thou Who art our life and light, guide Thy servants in Thy way, and make us rich in Thy love and grace from all save Thee.

O God, teach us Thy oneness and give us a realization of Thy unity, that we may see no one save Thee, Thou art the Merciful and the Giver of bounty!

O Thou, create in the hearts of Thy beloved the fire of Thy love, that it may consume the thought of everything save Thee.

Reveal to us, O God, Thine exalted certainty—there Thou art ever been and wilt ever be, and that there is no God save Thee.

Verily, in Thee will we find comfort and strength!

—Bahai Faith.

UNIVERSAL LOVE is a magnet which renders existence eternal, attracts Reality and diffuses Life and Infinite Joy. If this love penetrates the heart of man all the forces of the universe will be realized in him, for it is a Divine Power which transports him to a Divine Station, and man will make no real progress until illumined by this Power of Love.

Each must be a sun of love, a center of love, a sun of love, a universe of love. Hast thou love? Then thy power is irresistible.

Plan Big Beef Output for '44

Western Ranchers Turn to Science to Overcome Defense Shortage.

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D.—A promise that American cattle production will reach an all-time high within the next three years and possibly earlier is the response of the nation's cattlemen to the government's plea for increased meat supplies to meet defense demands in the United States and abroad.

The chief problem in this rapid increase in production is how to prevent abuse of the range. With the memory of other meat booms in their minds, the ranchers and the federal officials seek to discourage overgrazing and other destructive practices on the semi-arid cattle land of the West. The government has inaugurated a program of grazing control in many areas and is giving the ranchers advice on the best ways to preserve land productivity.

Livestock men are increasing their herds as well as intensifying their feeding operations. F. E. Molin of Denver, secretary of the American Livestock association, has estimated that American cattle production, of both dairy and beef types, will reach an all-time high by 1944.

Shipments Far Ahead.

Not even in the days of the vast livestock empires of the West, Mr. Molin said, were cattle as numerous as they will be soon when the United States cattle population is expected to reach 75,000,000 or 80,000,000 head. Cattle production increased by 3,000,000 head last year and most major livestock shipping points have reported sharply increased shipments this fall.

Shipments from this cattle town, once the largest livestock shipping center in the West, are running far ahead of recent years, with the total expected to exceed 1,300 carloads this year. In southeastern Montana, which contains one of the best ranges in the West, the cattle population is estimated by the federal agricultural market service to be 24 per cent higher than last year.

Changes in methods to produce more beef for each animal are reflected in the shipments. Far more cattle are going to feed lots in the Mississippi river valley area than are going directly from the range to market. These cattle will be fattened for market next spring.

Better Feeding Methods.

Mr. Molin pointed out that in addition to an increase in the number of cattle a higher production will be attained through the use of more quickly maturing types of cattle and better feeding methods.

To point the way toward a more conservative use of feeding grounds, the land use division of the department of agriculture has bought up large tracts of submarginal land and is leasing it back to stockmen for limited grazing. By curtailing the land's use the government officials hope to restore the productivity of many areas which were badly damaged by overgrazing and plowing. In regions not under government control federal programs of instruction are being conducted to convince the ranchers that conservation methods will improve the value as well as the productivity of their land.

Results of the conservation practices already are appearing on the range in this part of the West, which is reported to be in the best condition since 1927. Heavier rainfall as well as the improved ranching practices, which have included reseeded, limited grazing and the construction of thousands of small dams, have contributed to the improvement. The dams provide waterholes for livestock and maintain the sub-soil water level.

Tent City Will House Colorado Peach Pickers

PALISADE, COLO.—Tent homes for 200 families—with playgrounds for children—a community building, and all the facilities of a modern city will be ready for next year's peach picking.

Under the Farm Security administration a site of 20 acres is being utilized for this modern town. Expenses are expected to reach $300,000 before the project is completed. When the peach harvest arrives next August transient workers who for years have camped along river banks and in orchards—creating sanitation and housing problems—will have sanitary up-to-date homes.

The camp will be self-governing, with a superintendent, a nurse and physician on the regular staff during the fruit season. Tents will be stored each winter.

Ancient Problem Solved By Ingenious Private

MAXWELL FIELD, ALA.—Pvt. C. E. Powell of Maxwell field, in the southwest air corps training center, has solved an ancient problem—how to slip into those heavy army shoes fast enough to make reveille formations. The solution? . . . Shaving cream! Powell simply applies shaving cream to the inside of his shoes and he never misses a formation. Sounds silly, doesn't it? But it works.

"Folks," said the old colored minister, "the subject of my sermon dis evenin' is liars. How many in his congregation has don read the 69th chapter of Matthew?" Nearly every hand in his audience was promptly raised. "Dats' right," said his reverence. "You is de folks I want to preach to. Dere ain't no 69th chapter of Matthew."

A bride of a couple of months we know is planning patriotically to plant a garden of peas and beans and things like that the minute she can get her husband to spade the back yard. And we'll bet it will scare hell out of her when she finds they come up in pods instead of tin cans.

Whenever you see a man with a confused look it doesn't mean that he has been drinking. Maybe he has been listening to all of the news broadcasts on the radio.

We've heard some pretty pathetic stories, but the saddest one lately is about the guy who invested in $1800 worth of sugar (no foolin') a while back and is now wondering what to do with it. And he ain't no store-keeper, neither. Last we heard, he was trying to trade some of it off for some feed . . . unsuccessfully.

Signs of spring—some men in a restaurant wondering "if there's any open water yet where we can go fishing, outside of where Charley Ackerman is doing that dredging." . . . a youngster playing in the water puddles along the edge of the street . . . housewives looking at curtain and drapery materials in stores and poring over paint charts . . . and, of course, the new Easter bonnets on display in the windows of sundry stores.

We see where somebody writing an editorial advocates having the women-folks go out on the farms and pitch hay, etc. We ain't got no doubt the gal's patriotism would be equal to the job, even if they didn't have the requisite brawn . . . but has that guy ever thought what a swell follow-through they'd get on the family rolling pin after "training" on swinging a hundred pounds or so of green hay around on the end of a long pitchfork? . . . Maybe he's right, though. Perhaps what the gals need after all isn't advice on charm and "how to hold your man" as advocated in the current women's magazines. Maybe some good old-fashioned muscle and a commanding tone will help today's woman keep today's man in line a darn sight better than oodles of charm . . . and, as a lass from Lake Villa remarked the other day, "If we're wearing overalls we won't have to worry about runs in our silk stockings, anyhow!"

Besides, the farmers use hay-loaders now.

And the draft boards are getting orders now not to draft too many of the farm boys . . . so . . .

Have you heard the one about the lady who went into Jones' and inquired about the price of eggs? Jones told her 53c per dozen. The lady was sore. She said: "Why, that's outrageous! Smith's price is only 35c per dozen!" Jones asked the lady why she didn't buy them from Smith. She replied that Smith was out of eggs. "Well, lady," answered Jones brightly, "when I'm out of eggs my price is only 29c per dozen."

Teacher Jeanne Casey was much more perturbed than Pupil Betty Burnett when the latter swallowed a button from her overalls the other day at Antioch Grade school. Said Teacher: "I didn't have a chance to use any of the first aid methods we've been studying, either. It was too late, and the button was down, before one of the other pupils told me what had happened. Betty was the calmest one in the room. She said she'd swallowed buttons before."

This is getting tiresome, so we're quitting. You kin write the rest of your column yourself.

It is understood there are plans under way for the erection of a three-story brick building by A. N. Tiffany & Co. and J. C. James, Sr., this spring. N. S. Cannon has sold his farm of two hundred and thirty-nine acres to the Brook bank of Antioch.

Insistence of the Democrats on absolute ownership of the territory through which the Panama canal passes, rather than perpetual lease, is threatening to delay the canal treaty. An epidemic of LaGrippe seems to have taken possession of the village of Bristol.

23 YEARS AGO
March 13, 1919

Letter from "Red" Waters from Luxemburg—"Say, whoever it was that did all the voting over there certainly haven't got much of a drag with the doughboys. They sure pulled a dirty trick on us. They got the soldiers across the pond and then put the country dry, and one trying to do away with tobacco. . . . I've been wondering what I'll do when I get out of the army. It will be a little slow for a while."

Formal announcement is made by the treasury department that the city of Kenosha will have the honor of naming one of the new ships being constructed by the government. This honor is being given in recognition of the accomplishment of Kenosha in the sale of the fourth Liberty Loan bonds. Deloit is the other city in Wisconsin which is to have the same honor.

Harry Hoyt has received this verse from overseas, being a third army version, sung to the tune of "Silver Threads Among the Gold"—
Darling I am coming back,
Silver threads among the black;
Now that Peace in Europe nears
I'll be home in seven years.
I'll drop in on you some night,
With my whiskers long and white;
Yes, the war is over dear,
We are going home, I hear,
Home again with you once more,
Say—by nineteen twenty-four.
Once I thought by now I'd be
Sailing home across the sea,
Back to where you sit and pine,
But I'm corralled on the Rhine.
You can hear the boys all curse,
War was hell, but peace is worse;
When the next war comes around
In the front ranks I'll be found,
I'll rush in again pell-mell,
Yes, I will like hell—like hell.

CERTAIN FEEDS PRODUCE EGGS WITH GREEN AND RED YOLKS

Scientific research into the coloring of egg yolks inside the shell, by the addition of certain ingredients to the laying ration, attracted keen attention from visitors at the recent International Baby Chick Convention held at Kansas City, Missouri. The experiments showed that by mixing ingredients rich in red or green coloring matter into the ration fed to laying hens at the Convention, their eggs had either red or green yolks.

An unusual part of the exhibit was the chicks on display that were hatched from eggs with green yolks. Their skins showed the influence of the green coloring matter that the mother hens had originally eaten with their laying mash. A number of 4- and 5-week-old chicks were dissected at the exhibit, revealing the green coloring matter vividly in some of the internal organs. "This proves conclusively," stated Chas. Hicks, poultry specialist, in charge of the demonstration for Purina Mills, "that the feed a hen eats influences her chicks even after they have been out of the shell four or five weeks."

Only one conclusion could be drawn by visitors at this unusual exhibit—the important part feed plays in making eggs that hatch out strong vigorous chicks.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Treasury Asks 7½ Billion Tax Boost To Carry Out U. S. 'Victory Program'; Sweeping Soviet Advances Continue As New Assaults Puncture Nazi Lines

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the writer and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau as he presented a new 7 billion 610 million dollar tax program to congress. If approved by congress, the new taxes proposed by the treasury, added to the present total, would yield approximately 23 billion 487 million dollars in 1942. This would be an average of slightly more than $175 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

TAXES:

War Not Cheap

The job of digging $23,000,000,000 in tax money out of the pockets of the people of the United States had been placed squarely before Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury, and he had placed a plan before the congress to accomplish this.

He had prefaced his announcement of the plan with the statement that it was a "victory program" and that "war was not cheap, but a million times cheaper to win than to lose."

The plan had called for a general doubling of income taxes between the bottom limit and $10,000, increases of corporate taxes, increase of excise taxes, and a raising of the social security payment rates.

One innovation was the secretary's suggestion that at least a portion of the tax be raised at the source, employers withholding weekly amounts from their workers' pay and turning it over to the treasury monthly.

Secretary Morgenthau admitted this might mean paying on two years' taxes at the same time after about July 1, but pointed out that it would reduce the burden the following March, and also would prevent taxpayers from spending in inflationary avenues to purchase goods that could not be produced, in sufficient quantity to meet the demand.

The first reactions of congressmen in general had been favorable. It was doubtful if the eventual tax bill would emerge in exactly the form as presented by Secretary Morgenthau, but that something substantially like it would be adopted was considered certain.

Samples of the Morgenthau schedules called for single persons making a net of $2,000, now paying $117, to pay $230; for married persons making $2,200 with no dependents, now paying $61, to pay $110; for married persons with two dependents (average family) making a net of $2,700, to pay $64 instead of the present $20.

RUSSIANS:

Increase Pace

It had been expected that as the spring thaws began to set in the Russians would find the going more difficult, especially as Hitler made ready for his "spring offensive."

Some wonder had been caused when the Germans began issuing bulletins telling of enormous numbers of Red troops being shoved up toward the front, reports which were more or less confirmed from Red sources.

There were two possible solutions to this—either the Germans were preparing their people for the expected report of the loss of the Sixteenth field army, which had been trapped in the Staraya Russa district; or they were trying to convince the United States and Britain that Russia did not need and could not use additional lease-lend aid.

However this might be, observers had considered it more likely that Stalin, having placed a large group of generals in the background posts of training new armies, was putting these into the fight in order to halt the "spring offensive" before it could get going. To the westward the Russian army has captured large quantities of war materials.

It recalled statements of Napoleon and of the Germans themselves during the last war, that conquering the Russians was impossible because of their tremendous manpower, for countless thousands of new troops always appeared on all fronts, just when one thought them well beaten.

There were many who had expressed the belief that Germany, instead of driving the Russians back this spring, might, if forced to a heavy battle on two fronts, even be knocked rapidly out of the war altogether. Validity of this belief will be determined in the next few weeks.

JAVA:

New Psychology

The word "offensive" had become increasingly important in the dictionary of the Allied Nations.

In Washington Chief of Staff General Marshall had struck the keynote, and when the Japs came into Java, and General Wavell was shunted off to India, leaving Dutch Gen. Ter Poorten in charge, almost the first order to the men was to make an offensive out of the defense of the island.

The troops, which included some Americans, British and Australians, but which largely were Dutch and natives, had hurled themselves at the enemy with considerably more force than had been evidenced by the British in either Malaya or Burma, and early successes were reported. However, the estimated 85,000 Japanese troops were able to turn the tide of battle against approximately 50,000 Allied soldiers.

The Japs had landed at three points, the estimate being that 140 warships and transports had been used. One landing was on the Sumatra point of the island, another in the north central portion, and the third just west of Sourabaya.

Though most observers felt from the first that the battle for Java could have only one end, and though the Dutch, at the outset, were bitter against the United Nations for not having sent sufficient aid, the battle was the first test of the new psychology, to be "on the offensive" instead of the defensive at all times.

The battle for Java marked the closing phase of the beginning of the Southwest Pacific war. Japanese successes in that area, won at a huge cost of man power, were largely the result of overwhelming air superiority.

RIOM:

'Inside Story'

More of the "inside story" of the fall of France and the reasons for it had been aired by outspoken Eduard Daladier, ex-premier who had been placed on trial.

At the same time ex-Generalissimo Maurice Gamelin had stood still at attention, refusing to answer a single question hurled at him by Pierre Catus, the prosecutor.

But Daladier, giving still more importance to the reports of dissension and lack of co-operation within the nation, charged that the entire war effort of France had been "sabotaged" by the lack of interest of several large steel industries.

He told of two concerns which had been approached by the government long before the war to take part in a government-private industry combine which would have set up huge armament works in northern Africa.

There, Daladier had testified, the government would have been able to have strengthened her armed forces.

But the industrialists approached refused to consider the plan until France was at war with Germany, when it was too late, he had said.

NELSON:

How to Spend

Donald Nelson, WPB head, charged with the job of spending an apparently unending succession of billions of dollars, had issued a document called Directive No. 2 which outlined to the world his theories of how it should be done.

In the first place, he has ended competitive bidding on war work.

He is trying, he had announced, to get the small plant, not now engaged in war work, into the war picture.

POLICY:

Change Toward Paris Indicated by Bombing

Though the British had systematically bombed enemy installations in occupied Europe, particularly those nearest the channel coast, Paris, except for the token bombing in 1940 had been virtually untouched by the war.

However, with a sudden day and night attack against the huge auto factories on the outskirts of Paris, Britain apparently had told the world that her policy toward the queen city of France had been changed.

A large squadron of heavy bombers, meeting considerable anti-aircraft fire, had flown over the city and suburbs all day and far into the night, dropping deadly loads in the neighborhood of the Renault, Citroen, Hispano-Suiza, Potez and Regnier motor works.

Vichy did not reveal the amount of the damage, but said there "were civilian casualties."

London had been terse about the affair, simply stating that the Renault auto factory, to France what Ford is to this country, had "become the symbol of French collaboration with Germany."

The company, said London, "is known to have been engaged in the making and repairing of transport vehicles, tanks and airplane engines for Germany."

ACE:

Made in a Day

From the Pacific theater had come the story of a determined attempt by Japanese heavy bombers, evidently operating from an island base, to put one of our largest aircraft carriers out of action.

The vessel, thanks to the vigorous defense of the pursuit personnel, escaped "without a scratch" the navy had reported.

Out of it emerged Lieut. Edward O'Hare of St. Louis, Mo., as the war's first "ace in a day."

The Japs came against the carrier with 18 bombers in two flights of nine each. Only two got away. Yet the attackers came in with such force that one of them attempted a "suicide crash" with his load of bombs on the deck of the ship.

LIEUT. EDWARD O'HARE
Navy's "Ace in a Day."

"So close was it" the navy had reported, "that he was shot down by point-blank anti-aircraft fire when less than 100 yards from his objective."

O'Hare got six of the enemy planes all by himself. The other pursuit fliers got the other ten. Two returned to the Jap base unscathed, apparently. Two American planes had been shot down, but the pilot of one was rescued.

It was a dramatic affair and one which showed the American pilots were being tried in combat and not found wanting, also that the Jap losses, if they continued at five to one or better, soon were bound to be reflected in a loss of momentum for their drive.

STRATEGY:

Decided Upon

While there had been little question that the Atlantic Charter and a possible spring offensive on the European front, plus the keeping of supply lines open to Britain and Russia were the primary American military objectives, a significant strategy had been decided upon in the Pacific theater.

This strategy called for the use of Australia as a basing-ground and a hop-off point for the eventual winning offensive against the Japanese.

There had been numbers of "token" bombing raids on Port Darwin and other points of importance to Australia, and the Aussies believed that these were laying the groundwork for an eventual all-out assault.

But it was with the offensive, not the defensive thought in mind that Australia was planning with the United States for supplies, men and munitions with which to make the continent a springboard for attack rather than defense.

MISCELLANY:

Puerto Rico: American soil on the Atlantic side had felt the impact of German shells. The tiny island of Mona off Puerto Rico which houses a CCC camp, had been shelled by a submarine.

New York: The Vatican radio had announced that food supplies, sent by the Pope to starving Greece, had arrived there safely and were being distributed.

LAKE VILLA

The Rev. MacArthur's topic for next Sunday morning will be "Value in Beauty," and for the chalk illustrated sermon on the Lord's Prayer in the evening at 7:30, he will use the passage, "Give us this day." On Sunday morning, March 22, at 11 o'clock, the Ladies' Aid society will be "special guests."

The Aid society will hold its next meeting on Wednesday afternoon, March 18, with Mrs. William Weber at her home and visitors are very welcome.

Mrs. MacArthur was guest of honor at a shower held in connection with the Aid society last Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Hooper as hostesses, and on the following afternoon, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Henry Cable, Mrs. Chester Hamann, nee Evelyn Fish, was also honored with a shower.

A few friends of Mrs. Seeger spent last Tuesday with her at her home to celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamlin entertained friends from Lake Bluff last Sunday.

An interesting meeting is planned for Tuesday evening, March 31, by the Royal Neighbors when an open meeting will be held at the hall in the interests of dried blood plasma for use in the war. Everyone is invited to be present that we may learn more of this modern miracle of science.
